Thursday February 12, 2009 7 – 9 PM CCHS Cafeteria

You are invited to participate in Concord and Carlisle's National Teach-In on Climate Change Solutions for the Obama Administration's First 100 Days. Similar events are taking place all across America in early February. Thousands of Americans will participate through hundreds of campuses, congregations, and civic groups. There is a special focus on inviting and hearing from young people, who will inherit the challenges associated with climate change.

Highlights:

- Join Representative Cory Atkins who will introduce the event
- View the National Webcast on the importance of environmental legislation during the first 100 days
- Hear Keith Bergman, an Al Gore's Climate Action Project trainee, present Gore's plan to repower America
- Learn about other proposed climate action legislation and proposals
- Discuss actions we can take at the local, state and national levels

Join in this community event to learn, discuss and act. Our children's future hangs in the balance!
